

Jonah

Kanye West

Like who's here when I need a shoulder to lean on?
I hope you're here when I need the demons to be gone
And it's not fair that I had to fight 'em all on my own
Like who's here when I need a shoulder to lean on?
I hope you're here when I need the demons to be gone
And it's not fair that I had to fight 'em all on my own

Hard to keep my focus on what matters
Mandem hit my line like, "Some niggas just got hit up on your block"
You can rest assured it's not us
'Cause we been out the wave catchin' waves
They say, "We ain't seen you on the block"
'Cause I been out the way
Chasin' millions in my sleep, I found the better way
Somewhere on an island, let me kick it, this my getaway
I pour up a drink for all my niggas who ain't see the day
Tryna finish this with who I started with Way too many fallen soldiers, no, I can't forgot
Hope they got headphones up in Heaven
You can vibe out and just hear this shit
It's just certain shit you can't forget

Like who's here when I need a shoulder to lean on?
I hope you're here when I need the demons to be gone
And it's not fair that I had to fight 'em all on my own
Like who's here when I need a shoulder to lean on?
I hope you're here when I need the demons to be gone
And it's not fair that I had to fight 'em all on my own

Kanye and Jay still brothers, they both billionaires (Yeah)
And we ain't see it, I lost my brother when we was millionaires (Mm-hmm)
I wasn't scared to die, but him, that was my biggest fear (That was my biggest fear)
I got your son and your daughter like you still here (On God)
Know how it feel to lose a brother, we got a bond still Twenty-six years, pops got out to see his son killed (No, ooh whoa)
And I don't give a fuck if I hang with a Crip, I see blood still
I can be the cleanest millionaire, I'm from the mud still (Yeah)
Died with his chains on, I call it blood diamonds
It's to the point I drop my own lo' so they could find us
And it's been months and they still haven't (Still haven't)
Kanye did it for the city, he co-signed

Like who's here when I need a shoulder to lean on?
I hope you're here when I need the demons to be gone
And it's not fair that I had to fight 'em all on my own

Smoke a opp pack ain't funny like that
It get ugly like that, can't get no money like that Holy Father, please, let me step in Can't talk to buddy like that, it get bloody like that Whole lotta steppers and they steppin'
And they sunny like that
And they comin' right back
And when you on tour, bet you check in
'Cause my guy back to work, it's a Monday like that
And when you text, change the beginnin' of every word

You speak to me with only no cap
Me and your big homie go back
Homie don't rap, you don't know me like that

Like who's here when I need a shoulder to lean on?
I hope you're here when I need the demons to be gone
And it's not fair that I had to fight 'em all on my own
Like who's here when I need a shoulder to lean on?
I hope you're here when I need the demons to be gone
And it's not fair that I had to fight 'em all on my own

Like who's here when I need a shoulder to lean on?
I hope you're here when I need the demons to be gone
And it's not fair that I had to fight 'em all on my own
Like who's here when I need a shoulder to lean on?
I hope you're here when I need the demons to be gone
And it's not fair that I had to fight 'em all on my own