

DRUNK WORDS, SOBER THOUGHTS

Kari Faux

I need the space to be soft
Peel my armor off
I need the space to be soft
To show you all my flaws
I need the space to be soft
Peel my armor off
I need the space to be soft
To show you all my flaws
I need the space to be soft
I need the space to be soft
I need the space to be soft

This is for my gangster bitches that need forehead kisses
Who's left to pacify themselves whenever the plot gets thickened
Was pushed off the porch so you had to wear them bigger britches
Invisible at your house but the streets gave you attention
And now I sip it, I fear I'm made in my mother's image
Even my sunny disposition casts the biggest shadows
Shine my light in the darkest corners of your mind
I'll face it with you baby, you don't ever have to hide
I'll give you grace if you hold space, that's my trade off
Hold my weight, I'll change my ways yeah, that's the payoff
Cant take no days off cause now I got responsibilities
Never got a chance to love so what the fuck is chivalry
It's killing me that I gotta put on this armor
It can't shield me from trauma
Got PTSD from a past life, I guess that karma

I need the space to be soft
Peel my armor off
I need the space to be soft
To show you all my flaws
I need the space to be soft
Peel my armor off
I need the space to be soft
To show you all my flaws
I need the space to be soft
I need the space to be soft
I need the space to be soft

I been drinking alcohol
Po' me up, po' me up
Po' me up, po' me up
Po' me up, po' me up
Po' me up, po' me up
Po' me up, po' me up
Po' me up, po' me up
I been drinking alcohol

The caller you have reached is currently emotionally unavailable
Please hang up and don't call again, goodbye

(Ready?)

I woke up today and I'm feeling some type of way
They ask me how I feel but I don't have shit to say
I woke up today and I'm feeling some type of way
They ask me how I feel but I don't have shit to say

(Want me to keep going?)

I woke up today and I'm feeling some type of way

They ask me how I feel but I don't have shit to say
