

Everything Is All Wrong

Karl Wolf

You seem wasting all my life waiting
Hopping you will opened the door
I am waiting for you, you, you
Spend the night regretting taking love for granted
I just thought that you'd always be near
I wish you were here, here, here

I'd give my life to take the hands of time
And turn them back to the way that we were
Now that you are gone, everything is all wrong
I'd give my life to make these days and nights
As sweet as days that we were together
Now that you're gone, everything is all wrong

Now that you're gone, everything is all wrong

Walking in the rain trying to wash away the pain
I gotta find some way to heal
I don't wanna feel, feel, don't wanna feel
And no matter where I go and everything I know
A part of you keeps calling me
I'll never be free, free, free

I'd give my life to take the hands of time
And turn them back to the way we were
Now that you are gone, everything is all wrong
I'd give my life to make these days and nights
As sweet as days that we were together
Now that you're gone, everything is all wrong

I'd give my life to take the hands of time
And turn them back to the way we were
Now that you are gone, everything is all wrong
Everything is all wrong...
Now that you are gone, everything is all wrong
