

All It Takes

Karnivool

Are you close enough?
To see what you've got yourself into?
Are you close enough?
You played the hand that you wanted to?
I don't want to prey on your honesty
But I can't excuse your naivety
Are you close enough?
Are you close enough?

Faith, lies, burn after reading
Inferior notions, so quick to reveal
Our hands held high as we follow you down

Are you close enough?
To see what you've got yourself into?
So happy to feel too much
Given this vice here is nothing new
For it's a cynical cycle - now run like a rat on a wheel
Pay for the thrill of it, kill for it, reset the cycle, begin

With true patience, wait for the sound
One you can't ignore, it's so fitting
With true patience all will be found
Worth the wait I'm sure, we're all listening now

We awake and we crawl through the ashes
Feign an illusion 'cause everyone is watching us
Here in effect, we are cause for the habit
Now do you see it?
Fail and I'll follow you down
I'm starting to lose what's left
But I'll follow you now
Are you close enough?

I don't want to prey on your honesty
But I can't excuse your naivety
Are you close enough?
For the both of us
How can you say to me honestly
"This is the way that it has to be"
Give me something to believe
Make a mark, a memory
You're going to need all it takes
You're going to need everything
(All it takes to)

With true patience, wait for the sound
One you can't ignore, it's so fitting
With true patience all will be found
Worth the wait I'm sure, we're all listening now
(All it takes to)
