

Danger Bear

Kashmir

time is a fever
a crystal breeze an iron flame
time is a deceiver
you think you own
and it turns away

fast oh so fast it burns like a comet that crashes our sphere

boy you're a freight train that runs through the hordes of werewolves and flakes your heart is for beating not the feet
that stand in your way

fast oh so fast they turn slipping like soap in your hand
spider-man

the vampire that hides in the dim corner as you walk by will turn into cinder with one laser beam from your eye so lean back tuck in and drift off
