

Cold As Stone

Kaskade

I see it in your eyes, you're seconds from destroying me
I said my last goodbye, now someone get me out of here
Can't take another lie, stop telling me who I should be
'Cause I don't wanna go where you're going
You're telling me I can't change my mind

So I'm cold as stone
The only way I know
To keep my soul
And never let it show
That I don't really know what I'm doing
But all I know is I'm crashing down

So let me, let me out
I can't love you anymore
Let me, let me out
I don't love you like before

Let me, let me
I don't love you
Let me, let me

Never felt so lonely, there you standing next to me
I always feel so empty when you promise you won't leave
Every time you hold me I run away so I can breathe
You can't even hear me when I'm screaming
Try to stay away out of line

So I'm cold as stone
The only way I know
To keep my soul
And never let it show
I'm cold as stone

So let me, let me out
I can't love you anymore
Let me, let me out
I don't love you like before

Let me, let me
I don't love you
Let me, let me

I was burying my heart on my seat
Before I used to be down on my knees
It's funny how clearly I see
I was trying not so desperately

So let me, let me out
I can't love you anymore
Let me, let me out
I don't love you like before
So let me, let me out
I can't love you anymore
Let me, let me out

Let me, let me
I don't love you
Let me, let me
Let me, let me
I don't love you
Let me, let me
