

Valentine

Kaskade

I don't really want a valentine
But I never hear you say you're mine
You say you're mine

Always trouble when you smile
Pleasures always intertwine
As soon as day turns into night
You've done it once, you'll do it twice

And I don't want no problems
If we're both just being honest
Let's just lie about it for tonight
I know the boat
I only saw you switch your phone to silent
So let's just lie about it for tonight

I'm close to my tipping point
Mix my drinks with hope
Dancing to the storm
I don't really want a valentine
But I never hear you say you're mine
You say you're mine

Forget about your lipstick stains
Wash them out under the rain
It's too late to apologize
Work it like it's exercise

I don't want no rumors
Take it off like Ferris Bueller
Let's just lie about it for tonight
I know the boat
I only saw you switch your phone to silent
So let's just lie about it for tonight

I'm close to my tipping point
Mix my drinks with hope
Dancing to the storm
I don't really want a valentine
But I never hear you say you're mine
You say you're mine
I don't really want a valentine
But I never hear you say you're mine
You say you're mine

I don't really want a valentine
But I never hear you say you're mine
You say you're mine
