

I Transpire

Katatonia

I can't say that I am free as long as they return if I had a way out of here would I then return? they seldom will speak, no they only breathe, slow do they know that I'm afraid, so afraid they depend on my worries, so I know and I'm awake, I'm right in the circle now I am with them

there is no way I am going to be free because their hearts, they are similar to mine there is no way they are going to release me from this chain of rows unto our own hearts

I can't say that I regret my promises I can't say that I regret, behaving like my enemies I seldom will speak, no I only breathe, ghost
