Shadows

Kate Bollinger

Diamond in the dark
A shadow in some rooms
Telling you apart's
A chore for me to do

Wait I'll start to notice you
Wait I'll start to hate you, too

Point with shaking hands
Displacement heals your wounds
I'm there to stop the blood
But I won't be there soon

Wait I'll start to notice you
Then see right through the things you do

Too soon to unknow my truth
Someday I'll find I'm around it
Loose screw, could happen to you
Claim you're above it, I doubt it

You find you unlock your mind
And all that's inside is a balance
Terrified but only with time
Both sides will align in their malice
