

No More

Kate DeAraugo

How could you hurt the one you say the most?
What made you think you had that power?
Who told you you were God even for a day?
He wasn't yours to take forever

No more cruelty, no more hate
No more lying, we won't wait
No more pretending, no more fears
No more broken mothers' tears
No more danger, no more lies
No more pain in each other's eyes
No more guns, no more war
No more

And I say why, why, why
Is there so much violence, too much silence?
Cry, cry, cry
For the souls we've lost, how many more have to
Die, die, die?
We must come together, love's the answer
My, my, my, why

We must stand up to hate 'cause this is how it starts
Together we're stronger, never tears us apart
Let's learn from our mistakes but don't forget the past
March onto the future with a [?] in our hearts

No more cruelty, no more hate
No more lying, we won't wait
No more pretending, no more fears
No more broken mothers' tears
No more danger, no more lies
No more pain in each other's eyes
No more guns, no more war
No more

And I say why, why, why
Is there so much violence, too much silence?
Cry, cry, cry
For the souls we've lost, how many more have to
Die, die, die?
We must come together, love's the answer
My, my, my, why?

Don't know why there's so much hatred
Did nobody love you right?
'Cause I just can't seem to see the end in sight
Are we really that divided?
We all bleed the same blood
Could the darkness soon be gone? It must be love

Kween Kong Enter
Pull up to your face and I talk to your soul
You got the right one, now it's taking its toll
I'm done with the pain, game, lies and your rulebook
Square up right now, I don't need your approval
Let me break it down for you, it feels real tired

To go back and forth with you about what I desire
Hear me real clear, I just unlearned fear
You don't like that? Baby you don't need to be here

Why, why, why
Is there so much violence, too much silence?
Cry, cry, cry
For the souls we've lost, how many more have to
Die, die, die?
We must come together, love's the answer
My, my, my, why?

I said why, why, why
Is there so much violence, too much silence?
Cry, cry, cry
For the souls we've lost, how many more have to
Die, die, die?
We must come together, love's the answer
My, my, my, why?
