

Taking Chances

Kate Micucci

People are weird
They're getting weirder
Look in the mirror-
It's not much clearer
Try to be good in the end
Find your reflection, my friend
And soon you will see it's a good day for you

'Cause it's time for taking chances
Whatever may be
Find out what romance is
And in the end you'll see...

People behave just as they're supposed to Try to be brave, nobody knows to Give up the games in the end
'Cause everyone likes to pretend
But soon you will see it's a good day for you

'Cause it's time for taking chances
Whatever may be
Find out what romance is
And in the end you'll see...

And every time you hear a bell
Would you stop to think of me?
Wishing on a wishing well...
Maybe then, in time, you'll see

Life can be grand, if you'll just let it
So hand 'em your hand; you won't regret it
Nothing is better than this
It could just lead to a kiss
And then you will see it's a good day for you

'Cause it's time for taking chances
Whatever may be
Find out what romance is
And in the end you'll see...

And every time you hear a bell
Would you stop to think of me?
Wishing on a wishing well...
Maybe then, in time, you'll see
