

Hectic Glitter

Kate Miller-Heidke

Has anyone ever told you
That you over-share
Just take your clothes off
Leave em on the chair
Has anyone ever told you
You've got an earnest face
Take it off, if it's talk you want
You're in the wrong place

Skin wants skin
It's a terrible itch
Skin wants skin
Doesn't matter if you're poor, if you're rich

I want the hectic glitter in your eye
Want the frantic hollow in your cry
Want the hectic glitter and the sweat
In an empty room where the walls are wet

Fall through the floor with me, fall through the floor with me
Fall through the floor with me, fall through the floor with me

Has anyone ever told you
Oh no that's okay
Just keep you doing what your doing
I like it that way
Don't give me your number
When we're at the end
Do I look like a buddy
Do I look like a friend

Skin wants skin
It doesn't come from the heart
Devotion
From a kneeling start

I want the hectic glitter in your eye
Want the frantic hollow in your cry
Want the hectic glitter and the sweat
In an empty room where the walls are wet

Oh the hectic glitter in your eye
Want the frantic hollow in your cry
Want the hectic glitter and the sweat
In an empty room where the walls are wet

Fall through the floor with me, fall through the floor with me
Fall through the floor with me, fall through the floor with me

Has anyone ever told you?
