Sinking In

Katelyn Tarver

Like a childhood room when you're home for a long weekend
Everything's the same but it all feels different

I remember when I used to
Know that I was safe next to you
Now I'm standing in the same place
And I don't feel anything at all

'Cause letting go of you feels like I'm letting go of me
Without you here I wouldn't who I am or who to be
If I walk away I'm scared I'll never see you again
But I'm fighting for a memory, I'm starting to forget
'Cause the thought of losing you is sinking in

You were the ground that I used to stand on
Now the familiar's gone and I'm trying to hold on

I've been trying to resist it
Tryna keep it at a distance, oh
But I'm standing in the same place
And I don't feel anything at all

'Cause letting go of you feels like I'm letting go of me
Without you here I wouldn't who I am or who to be
If I walk away I'm scared I'll never see you again
But I'm fighting for a memory, I'm starting to forget
'Cause the thought of losing you is sinking in

Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here

Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here
Don't leave me here

'Cause letting go of you feels like I'm letting go of me
Without you here I wouldn't who I am or who to be
If I walk away I'm scared I'll never see you again
But I'm fighting for a memory, I'm starting to forget
'Cause the thought of losing you is sinking in
