

A Love That Won't Walk Away

Kathy Troccoli

Some days are easier than others
'Cause life's not tailor made
Some days you hide under the covers
Till the storm clouds blow away
You feel like your faith is dying
But, please, don't give up yet

'Cause that's just how it goes
How life turns, how it rolls
Through the fire and through the pain
It may hurt, it may bruise
It may leave you confused
But you will be okay
'Cause His kind of love
Is a love that won't walk away

So don't let the rain take your courage
And don't let the wind beat you down
Don't let the waves crash against you
And turn your heart around

'Cause God is there right beside you
And He wants you to know

Oh, that's just how it goes
How life turns, how it rolls
Through the fire and through the pain
It may hurt, it may bruise
It may leave you confused
But you will be okay
'Cause His kind of love
Is a love that won't walk away

And that's just how it goes
How life turns, how it rolls
Through the fire and through the pain
It may hurt, it may bruise
It may leave you confused
But you will be okay
'Cause His kind of love is a love
His kind of love is a love
That won't walk away