

Bittersweetness

Kathy Troccoli

I know just how you feel
How that guilt tears you
That's the way it happens when you fall
Lies tell us we're accused
Or we feel alone excused
But there's a way to rise above it all

Time and time again
We feel defeated by our sin
We can't give up
We've got to learn to give it all to Him
There's a bittersweetness
In confessing all my weakness
I can walk again
As if I'd never fallen down

Every time I fall
Thinking that I can't get up
I just have to call
And here You stand to pick me up
When I finally see
That He is not accusing me
I confess it all
Knowing He still wants with me

Oh wonderin' when to move
What you're tryin' to do
Have you got nothing left to justify
Life waits to be persuaded
And now that's been renewed
Take your pains some awful reconcile

Time and time again
We feel defeated by our sin
We can't give up
We've got to learn to give it all to Him
There's a bittersweetness
In confessing all my weakness
I can walk again
As if I'd never fallen down

Every time I fall
Thinking that I can't get up
I just have to call
And here You stand to pick me up
When I finally see
That He is not accusing me
I confess it all
Knowing He still wants

Every time I fall
I just have to call
When I finally see
That He is not accusing me

Knowing He still wants

Oh every time I fall
I just have to call
When I finally see
That He is not accusing me
I confess it all
