

Keep Walking

Katie Gavin

I saw your mom in my dream
She called me an asshole and I felt released
And out of the blue came a new clarity
I've done to you all that you've done to me

What a relief
To know that some of this was my fault
I am not a victim after all
I'm at peace with you and
If I ever see you on the street
I'll just keep walking, walking
I'll keep walking
I'll keep walking, walking
I'll keep walking

I won't look at you online
Once in awhile I'll wanna know if you've died
I hope you're alive and your rent is still cheap
I hope you get twice all I've received and it feels like

Relief
To know that some of this was my fault
You were not the villain after all
I'm at peace with you and
If I ever see you on the street
I'll just keep walking, walking
I'll keep walking
I'll keep walking, walking
I'll keep, keep walking
Walking, I'll keep
I'll keep walking
