

Resist

Katy McAllister

Consider me gone by morning
I know what you want so I won't hang around
As you let me down
I'd consider you wrong but I'm the fool
To keep letting you come around just to let me down
I let it get this far but you had me from the start
Feels like our lives are ending
So we keep coming back

It's the same routine just a different scene
And I don't believe your resisting
It's the same old stunt just a different month
And you know that I still can't resist
Can't get over this
I'll see you around
Next time you let me down
Ohh

I don't expect a response my darling
After you get what you want so I won't hang around
For you to let me down
So I'll put up these walls my darling
And I say that I'm done but you know better now
You still let me down

I don't see this getting better
Knowing anyway cause I've always been in way too deep
And you know me better
I'm bad at this whole resisting thing

It's the same routine just a different scene
And I don't believe your resisting
It's the same old stunt just a different month
And you know that I still can't resist
Can't get over this
I'll see you around
Next time you let me down
Ohh

It's easier to make mistakes
Than to make you stay away
It's easier for my heart to break
Than to feel without it at all
It's better to let you be a fake
For one minute, I'll close my eyes and pretend that I don't die a little inside

It's the same routine just a different scene
And I don't believe your resisting
It's the same old stunt just a different month
And you know that I still can't resist
Can't get over this
I'll see you around
Next time you let me down
Ohh
I just can't resist

Ohh
