

A Million Years

Kayak

The time had come for you to go
And my whole world came crashing down around me
Could hardly sleep and breathe
Just thinking how it could have been
If only you were here tonight

Which way to turn when fate steps in
When love is gone and loneliness surrounds me
Keep staring at the ceiling
Hoping that it's just a dream
That you've never really left my life

You gave me shelter when no one would
Your arms around me once felt so good
When I lost all direction you showed the way
Never imagined I'd be losing you one day
Not even in a million years

Alone at night
I feel the urge
To cry out loud I'm missing you like crazy
A thousand questions left
There's just no way I can accept
That you're not coming back to me

You gave me shelter when no one would
Your arms around me once felt so good
When I lost all direction you showed the way
I couldn't bear the thought of losing you one day
Not even in a million years

You gave me shelter when no one would
Your arms around me once felt so good
When I lost all direction you showed the way
You've made my longing for you stronger every day
So how could I forget you even in a million years
