

Here Today

Kayak

Times of sadness
Times of joy and times of gladness
Never lasting
Changing like the tides

Your love's an ocean
Rise and fall in constant motion
Brightly shining
And dark as moonless nights

I need you like the air I breathe to keep on living
I want you more than anything that life might be giving

Here today
But tell me you'll be here tomorrow
There's no way
Of knowing what you'll do

Come what may
Bring me pleasure, bring me sorrow
Here today I'm there for you

Our love's an ocean
Rise and fall in constant motion
Softly shining
Or bright as moonlit nights

I need you like the air I breathe to keep on living
I want you more than anything that life might be giving

Here today
But if you would be gone tomorrow
There's no way
Of telling what I'd do

Come what may
Don't go where I could never follow
Here today
My heart belongs to you