Yea look
Used to all make sense now it got me confused
I had different girls, I had to pick and choose
Me being a man, it was just hard to choose
Me being a man, the reason why I lose
Why I lost got me tripping tryna play it cool
You know my vision need your spirit just to make it move
What's the point of all these feelings if it ain't for you
Listing all the pros and cons and all the shit I do for you

This shit ain't adding up
How could you leave like that
History made you can't let it pass
Made my mistakes and I can't take em back
Nooo
What will it take for you to stay with me
In time you'll see you're changing me
Say you hear that story before

Baby can you look at me
Can you listen to me
I'll tell you that I'm sorry
I'll tell you that I'm sorry
And I'm gonna fight for this cause I know that I fucked up
Don't call me in four years, can we catch up
Wanted something real wanted something deep
It only matters to me, no
Can't say it matters because I got caught
I know that I hurt you and that's why you're gone
Baby, can you look at me
Something ain't adding up
Baby can you look at me
Can you listen to me
I'll tell you that I'm sorry
I'll tell you that I'm sorry
Something ain't adding up
We had the fragile love
And now I gotta reminisce on my own
And now I gotta figure this out on my own

Can we talk it out because I can't cope with this
Can we put a little hope in those
Take it slow with this
Bring it home with this
And I ain't perfect tell me who is

Can we put a little hope in this
Put some hope in this
Put some hope in this

What will it take for you to stay with me
In time you'll see you're changin me
Say you've heard that story before

Baby can you look at me
Can you listen to me
I'll tell you that I'm sorry

I'll tell you that I'm sorry
Baby this don't add up
Baby this hurts don't
And I miss you after two days
Then it turn it three days
Then it turn it four days
Then you come home
