KAZKA

What do you see? If I escape will I be saved?
Can't estimate when you'll fade, tell me I can't wait
I'm learning fast, I can't turn back
I died a million times when you left, when you said goodbye

What do you see, can you speak will I be saved?
My hearts on ice, can't think twice, tell me why oh why
I'm falling fast, stuck in the past
I try and understand, it hurts so bad, how long will it last?

I'm flying through the storms
The answer is in the sky
That everything I am is because of you
But I know I won't die
I'll live without your love
I'll take back every word, every woman's tears

What do you feel? Say it loud, speak into my soul
A winters day never fades, that's what I was told
I lost myself without your help
I fell straight back to hell or is it heaven? Maybe, I don't know

I'm flying through the storms
The answer is in the sky
That everything I am is because of you
But I know I won't die
I'll live without your love
I'll take back every word, every woman's tears

I'm flying through the storms
The answer is in the sky
That everything I am is because of you
But I know I won't die
I'll live without your love
I'll take back every word, every woman's tears

I'm flying through the storms
The answer is in the sky
That everything I am is because of you
But I know I won't die
I'll live without your love
I'll take back every word, every woman's tears

I'm flying through the storms
The answer is in the sky
That everything I am is because of you
But I know I won't die
I'll live without your love
I'll take back every word, every woman's tears
