

Won't Back Down

Kazzer

Were people ever honest, cause times are changing,
I look around now, and see a lot of fake shit
So what is really real whose got the know how You wish you new then, what you know now
Its kinda hard when the world seems relentless
I try to make it happen they say I'm selfish
Some people point their fingers they get up in my face
You want trouble well you've come to the right place
Ready to rumble at last it happens so fast
Some people take up space some people state the facts
Built for heavy loads, fine tuned for the long run
Givin you a chance to back out before its said and done
You want to take it outside check your vital signs
I hope you realize we all make mistakes
And it's easy when you loose your head

Far from my instinct far from my light
People want to talk cause they gotta get there hype I'll stand here and fight cause I don't want to swallow my pride
I won't back down
Can't turn around it's already too late, you know it's goin down and I just raised the stakes, and I got predictions...
I won't back down

They say I got an ego, a real attitude
I try to stay focused they say I'm being rude
You and your politics you think your so clever
They say something's the best I'll have to do it better some people play the odds risk it and roll dice I'm quick to put you in your place won't even think twice,
Isn't it funny you could have all the money but it won't save
You when the tables turnin when earnin respect can
You want to take it outside check your vital signs
I hope you realize we all make mistakes
And it's easy when you loose your head

Keep your head up, keep your head up, get up
