

Sing to You

KB

[KB:]

Everyone knows the struggle
How many more songs to come from?
I don't know how to come and
I don't know where I'm going
All of these doors are closing
I don't know what You're doing
Will it go away
Cause we don't have the answers
Cause He didn't take the cancer
We can't pay the ransom
But you fall away

When sorrows falling down like rain
When I can hardly take the pain
All I know is, I will sing to You
I will sing

Yeah, how does she still sing with the sting of prognosis?
Scars will not close and the wound will not open
How can he still dream with a string of felonies?
It's realer than Tel Aviv
A settle deep of emotion
But a caged bird has a song
And Lynda, you had the heart of God
And until you're last breath
Never seen someone seem so alive on their deathbed

So you sing of His promises
So you singing in the darkest area
We'll sing until the promises heal you
I'll sing over you my friend
And we don't have the answers
And we don't fly forever
And we still have a heaven
I'll come back to You

[KB & Casey J:]

When sorrows falling down like rain
When I can hardly take the pain
I will lift up my voice to You
I will sing to You
When I don't understand it all
When all my strength has finally stopped
I will lift up my voice and
I will sing to You
I will sing to You

[Casey J:]

Glory, Glory, be thou exalted
Lover of my soul
We owe it all to You
We owe it all to You

[KB:]

He who has a tear let him hear that I am here
Kneel when nobody else will, I'll still

Let my voice carry you through the void
I tarry you through the forest that buries the fruits of death, fear
I will ask for you across the espora
Taking you back home like Dafor
Can't foil the plan, you can't spoil your fans
The land broil, hand toil
Every Lilly in his field, he's that loyal
All night I couldn't sleep
Thinking about all the joy that I couldn't keep
All these holes in my heart it just seems
I've been pierced more times than I can speak
Got another hole from a friend last week
Lord Lord, why so many holes in me?
Then I saw the hands that were holding me
He said I know you, son I got holes too

[Casey J:]

When sorrows falling down like rain
When I can hardly take the pain
I will lift up my voice to You
I will sing to You
When I don't understand it all
When all my strength has finally stopped
I will lift up my voice and
I will sing to You
I will sing to You

All and all
We owe it all and all
All that is and needs to come
We owe it all to You
We give You all and all
We owe it all and all
All that is and is to come
We owe it all to You
