Look up in the sky, ohh I made it Think I'm gon lie when I tell you I ain't gon take it I got hands on nations, check my reputation Yeah that scoreboard still 1-0 cause my tomb is vacant That's why I'm... Undefeated Who do you think that you are? When I tell y'all that I run things Y'all better believe me Spin the earth on my finger like round ball I'm a globetrotter, its easy No lie boy y'all got me messed up Not Buddha, Muhammad and it dang sure ain't no Yeezus (at all) Y'all all like I ain't made where you standing Y'all act like I ain't drown the whole planet Act like my son ain't died on the cross Or I ain't gave you my all look here I ain't taking no loss I love you with all my heart that's the reason I'm here with my hands up giv ing my grace I know that you know that I'm here ignore if you want but the next time you spit in my face You better just Undisputed no mistakes or plan B In the end you'll all marvel like its Stan lee Don't doubt me but know about me It don't look like I'm in the lead But your ignorance don't make you safe Because the worst punch is the one you don't see Till you don't see I ain't done yet Watch all the glory my son gets The whole world been set up But you backwards, you upset I was the one that put man on this planet But im manning the planets And planet by planet im planning out history spoiler alert I get the victory over your habitat Matter fact matters a matter act to my exact If you like it then you should put a ring on it, I told Saturn that Never lost No death No natural disaster No new philosophy Nothing in the past No demon No disease Always and forever undefeated Handle it, can you handle it? I manage the world's best managements Thousands of years of the worst things (the earth's curse)

And it hurts me But I got purposes in the hurts of men

If you don't know it now, you'll know it then There's a greater good, don't worry friend

Where my glory goes, it reverses it
