

Nothing To Something

Keane

I was floating high above our lives
I was looking down from space
I was puzzled by the starlight on your face
Can I undo all the things I've done
Say the words I never said
Is there something that survives

Is it love that will lift us
From nothing to something
The spark of a better day
I feel it coming

Can we rise above these warring clowns
Who have turned friend against friend
Can we live the way we meant to live
Will we come home in the end
Is there something that survives

Is it love that will lift us
From nothing to something
The spark of a better day
I feel it coming
Can you rewrite the ending
And undo the damage
Get back on your feet again
Nothing to something

Hold me now
'Cause I feel afraid
That I want to change
My hands are weak
And the words feel strange
But I want to start again

Hold on tight
Better we don't look back
'Cause I'm not the only one

Is it love that will lift us
From nothing to something
The spark of a better day
I feel it coming
Can you rewrite the ending
Or undo the damage
Get back on your feet again
Nothing to something
