Beekeeper

Keaton Henson

Believe me,
believe me this loneliness won't go away.
Hear me,
oh woman I have gone astray,
gone astray.

Your friends,
Your friends will always just be in your way.
Trust me that darling either way,
either way.

You all say I've crossed the line,
but the sad fact is I've lost my mind.
You all say I've crossed the line,
but the sad fact is I've lost my mind.

But I'm just getting started, let me offend.
The devil's got nothing on me my friend.
All I want is to be left alone.
Attack from me is like blood from a stone,
from a stone.

But I'm just getting started, let me offend.
The devil's got nothing on me my friend.
All I want is to be left alone.
Attack from me is like blood from a stone,
from a stone.

Can you see?
Can you see they tell you lies thus keeping you weak.
Leave me my heart is dead for all to see,
can you see?

You all say I've crossed the line,
but the sad fact is I've lost my mind.
You all say I've crossed the line,
but the sad fact is I've lost my mind.

'Cause I'm just getting started, let me offend.
The devil's got nothing on me my friend.
All I want is to be left alone.
Attack from me is like blood from a stone,
from a stone.

But I'm just getting started, let me offend.
The devil's got nothing on me my friend.
All I want is to be left alone.
Attack from me is like blood from a stone,
from a stone.
