Keith Murray

I'ma take you back to day one, livin' in this New York slum It's deaf to the dumb, only break bread with some Moms left at 15, had no American dreams To this day, I'm sellin' to my cousin who's a fiend

No one to guide me but my older brother Little did we know the dirt we did fell back on my mother But didn't care back then, that's why she left like that Now my parents became the street and it's best like that

Some nights I pray to God and ask Him to pull my cord 'Cuz times is hard like the [Incomprehensible] street'll leave you scarred Street wise with no respect for authority and shit A chronic hustler of crack, a typical bitch

Raised by Madu, who strung out on a glass dick But every now and then I blessed her with a hit So she don't have to trick, it's prevalent amongst kids today Hustle krills, stack dough and every thing's okay

It's the emancipation proclamation
Under the self devised guidelines of self preservation and starvation

My life in this world wasn't about diamonds and pearls It was rough growin' up around the boys and girls After Daddy left, shit was a mess, Momma stressed But I give her an award, 'cuz damn, she tried her best

Holdin' down the household, barely had money to fold Christmas time, cherished our little shit like gold I can't front, Daddy was still if, we cared for me But him and Mommy breakin' up was like a nightmare to me

Yo, this is for the younger fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers Success is nothin' if it ain't influential to others
We gotta make the best out of this terrible situation
If not for us, for the younger generation

We gotta break the chain and deal with the pain For all our people that was slayed in vain For all our peoples that was falsely framed For all our peoples that's livin' the name

It's the emancipation proclamation
Under the self devised guidelines of self preservation and starvation

Let me show, I gotta love L.O.D., they put me under the wing And then I teamed up with the most beautiful thing In the world, 'cuz L.O.D. we all, we got I'ma fans and my mans keep it like it or not

I know it hurts, havin' to do everyday dirt Police all over my back, feel like bustin' them jerks When I'm on my road to the riches, I stay away from snitches And them bitches and keep my mind on business

Life was tough so I became aggressive like a pit
The only time I felt relaxed was when the blunt was lit
Thinkin' me and my team can be tight like the Gambino
Muscle in the hustle scene, respected like Nino

It gets deeper than the words of Proverbs

New thoughts emerge as I cop the squat on the curb

Thinkin' the herb strengthen my brain like spinach

And heavy shine, flooded with ice might boost my self image

Stick 'em, my life is so real, it hurts
Like when I saw my pops bein' driven off in a hearse
Like when I saw my mother bein' driven off in a hearse
Like in school when the roach crawl out my shirt

Like on Thanksgiving when we got free food from the church Back then it was DJ Red Alert and Kool Herc Rockin' pinstripe Lee's and in Tigra shirts Back then L.O.D. was puttin' in work

From the cradle to the grave
We all in the struggle, we gon' struggle, we gon' strive to stay alive
All my real people know what I'm talkin' about
Watch each other backs
Word up, my life is nothin' without my niggas, word up
