

DAYTONA

Keith Urban

I can feel the heatwave comin' on, and that's strange
I haven't seen the sun for days, the sun for days
I can't hit the town, call my friends
One drink would start a flood again
And I know where that goes
Down, down like dominoes

Can't drink no Jack and Coke 'cause once it hits my lips
I wanna play that song, spark up a cigarette
When the smoke in the air rolls like a wave
It reminds me of that ocean view
And I swear that I won't, but when it gets cold
I think of Daytona, and I think about you, you, you, you
And I think about you, you, you, you

Middle of the boardwalk, laid down, didn't talk
I can still taste the salt, taste the salt
Tryin' to find new highs, but I can't fight that neon Florida s ky
And everything I do leads me back to you

Can't drink no Jack and Coke 'cause once it hits my lips
I wanna play that song, spark up a cigarette
When the smoke in the air rolls like a wave
It reminds me of that ocean view
And I swear that I won't, but when it gets cold
I think of Daytona, and I think about you, you, you, you
Yeah, I think about you, you, you, you

I can't drink no Jack and Coke 'cause once it hits my lips
I wanna play that song, spark up a cigarette
When the smoke in the air rolls like a wave
It reminds me of that ocean view
And I swear that I won't, but when it gets cold
I think of Daytona, and I think about you, you, you, you
And I think about you, you, you, you
Oh, I think about you, you, you, you
I think about you, you, you, you
