

I see infinity in front of me
Will it ever be more than a dream
I'm incomplete necessity
Reaching for the space in between

I see humanity insanity
Another ghost in the machine
An obsolete morality
Spanning through the ages

I forgive myself but I
Feel everything
But I never knew what empty felt like
Til you went away
And I'm lost in the vertigo
We all need someone
When we come undone
And feel everything
I wish you well until we meet again

I see infinity antiquity
Is there any way to be redeemed
And supersede a destiny
And marvel at the greatness

I forgive myself but I
Feel everything
But I never knew what empty felt like
Til you went away
And I'm lost in the vertigo
We all need someone
When we come undone
And feel everything
I wish you well until we meet again

I see infinity

But I feel everything
But I never knew what empty felt like
Til you went away
And I'm lost in the vertigo
We all need someone
When we come undone
And feel everything
I wish you well until we meet again
