

Nemesis

Keith Wallen

In a constant state of dismay
I can't catch a break
I've made the mistakes
You're the voice I hear
It's crystal clear
And the cycle feels endless
And I know I caused it
It's all in my head
You know I'm my own worst enemy

And I cannot exist
Without my nemesis
It's the only thing that gets me through my selfishness
And I cannot resist
Broken promises
And after all it's me that is my nemesis

Can't resist touching the flame
Got carried away
Every day the same
Like a whisper in my ear
You're so sincere
And sometimes it feels hopeless
I'm cold and callous
And back from the dead
You know I'm my own worst enemy

And I cannot exist
Without my nemesis
It's the only thing that gets me through my selfishness
And I cannot resist
Broken promises
And after all it's me that is my nemesis

If I refuse to conform to you
You refuse to conform to me

And I cannot exist
Without my nemesis
It's the only thing that gets me through my selfishness
And I cannot resist
Broken promises
And after all it's me that is my nemesis
