

The Wolf

Keith Wallen

You're so convincing all dressed in sheep's clothing but I've seen you naked
Wish I would listen to signs sent from heaven 'cause I need the saving
Your lips are so damn addicting
And there's so many reasons why I need to quit them
You're so convincing all dressed in sheep's clothing but I've seen you naked

You break my heart a little harder every time
I'm tired of lying to myself pretending I'm fine

How many times can I sell you my soul
To fill up this hole in my chest
Reaching for someone to take what I've got
Well, I know what I said but guess hell froze over again
So here I am my own blood on my hands
Back in your bed
Lost in the sheets
Letting the wolf sink her claws into me

No use in hiding
You know where to find me
It's right where you left me
Led me to the darkness
Your eyes they were harmless until they were deadly
Can't you just tell me

How many times can I sell you my soul
To fill up this hole in my chest
Reaching for someone to take what I've got
Well, I know what I said but guess hell froze over again
So here I am my own blood on my hands
Back in your bed
Lost in the sheets
Letting the wolf sink her claws into me

How many times can I sell you my soul
To fill up this hole in my chest
Reaching for someone to take what I've got
And I know what I said but guess hell froze over again
So here I am my own blood on my hands
Back in your bed
Lost in the sheets
Letting the wolf sink her claws into me
