

Primal

Kekal

we cannot exist without exposure to adversity for life itself is spiced by elements of pain learning how to weather the storm that passes day by day remaining vigilant as far as mind can see to begin with, seasons are here for us to watch sometimes imaginations set us up for troubles as age flies by we cling to the first importance regain a footing after all the loss and failures find a way to ease our pain life unfolds in a passage of time bringing forth the sense of hope here we are, off we go