Plains of Forever

Keldian

I'm sleeping in darkness I feel my mind shutting down a distance you can't fathom oceans of time and more

I ran off at random to save all that we know so I risked all and I lost all but I found even more

all alone I hear your voice inside my head so strong

in the cold embrace
in the deep of space
far across the plains of forever
there is no way home
I will die alone
I will slowly fall to forever my memories in the thousands now so little filters through but you'll follow, this I know this future waits for you

far across the plains of forever
there is no way home
I will die alone
and I feel you still as my body chills in eternal dreams I will hold you in a close embrace
in the deep of space
