

You Keep on Whispering His Name

Kele

Ce-ce my baby
Why don't you pick up the phone?
It's 4 o'clock in the morning and
You're still not home
See Frankie says she saw you in town with him
He had his hand on your waist
Now I can be forgiving if it's a little fling
But something's happening, happening to you

You've started to change
The fire's gone now from your embrace
And every night's the same
You keep on whispering his name
You keep on whispering his name

Ce-ce my baby
Now your phone doesn't ring
Are you loosing the feeling?
Are you trading me in?
When you climbed into my bed
I knew your heart wasn't mine
But I hoped I would win you
Now everyday it seems you fall further away
Something's happening, happening to you

You started to change
The fire's gone now from your embrace
And every night's the same
You keep on whispering his name
You keep on whispering his name

And maybe this is payback
For a youth on the run
For all the hearts I did break
But I need to hear the truth from you
Not someone else
Something is happening, happening to you

You started to change
The fire's gone now from your embrace
And every night's the same
You keep on whispering his name
You keep on whispering his name
