Kelis

We are all running in a race
To find everything that you searching for is right there

Your love is blinding, I'm already home
The lights are shining, I'm already home

Who can you trust when you can't trust yourself
So I made a vow, in my faith only you I'll follow

Your love is blinding, I'm already home
The lights are shining, I'm already home

I'm not worthy, never could be that, I know
But somehow in spite of me you're always there to hold

Your love is blinding, I'm already home
The lights are shining, I'm already home

I can be a mess, I'm reckless & it shows
But with you I close my eyes and let you take control
Damn, Damn, Damn, Damn

Your love is blinding, I'm already home
The lights are shining, I'm already home
