

Drowning

Kelly Clarkson

Stop don't I don't wanna hear anymore
I can't focus with all this loud noise
You say one thing but do the other
Your words are twisted right as they slip from your mouth
Why are you so confusing?
How do you sleep knowing your love is

Drowning me the water's too high I can't see
You're drowning me, your waves are just too much to take
I can't breathe I've gotta find my way out baby your love is killing me

You try to hide it but I see you're not who you used to be
Your eyes have slowly become a blank stare
You don't know what's wrong all you know is that you simply don't care
Why do you always pull away from me
How can I stay when your love is

Drowning me the water's too high I can't see
You're drowning me the waves are just too much to take
I can't breathe I've gotta find my way out baby you're love is killing me

Your love is calling me pushing me down
Your love is changing me and has changing me and it changed you somehow
You're love is making me wanna run from you
Our love is sinking and I'm done trying to save you

Drowning me the water's too high I can't see
You're drowning me the waves are just too much to take
I can't breathe I've gotta find my way out baby you're love is killing me

Drowning me the water's too high I can't see
You're drowning me the wave's are just too much to take
I can't breathe I've gotta find my way out your love is killing me

Oh pulling me down no more of you pushing me down
No I've gotta find my way out your love is drowning me
Drowning me
Drowning me
