

Carousel

Kelly Willis

Riding on a carousel, I watched the world go by
I'm thinking about you and me and talking to the night
And how we just go round and round and round
And nothing ever changed. I think about the plans we made

When I can't stop my mind, and you know it hurts a lil more
Cuz you know how hard we tried
There comes a time the music has to stop its the end of the ride
You step up off the carousel and say goodbye

Maybe we were never made to be our whole live long
Maybe just the star across the sky, here and gone
You know the leaves are gonna fall, I think I smell the rain
And lovers dreams they come and go and still we tried again

And the world just goes around and round and round
Its such a crazy game but people love a carousel
And no one is to blame, and ppl love a carousel and no one is to blame