

I'm The Rule

Kelsea Ballerini

Freshman year she made 'em all fall in love, sophomore year she finally picked one And by junior year they were going strong Senior year we all saw it coming, silver band with a big ole diamond He got down on one knee in the middle of prom

And that's how happy ended starts, for those who it's always easy for So good for her, and good for her situation

I'm the rule,
she's the exception
I can't get a ride, and she found perfection
I can't help but be a little bit jealous
'Cause I'm the rule,
And she's the exception

Making up reasons why the phone ain't ringing Brushing up questions 'bout who I'm seeing Movies and dinners and parties as a party of one, Yeah it's real fun

And every once in a while I'll see 'em out on the town, yeah they've been married for a few years now So good for her, and good for her situation

I'm the rule,
she's the exception
I'm still single, while she's expecting
I can't help but be a little bit jealous
'Cause I'm the rule,

With all the pick up blinds that I've been hit, with after all the frogs that I've been kissing It's good to know fairy tales still exist

But I'm the rule,
She's the exception
It ain't cool, but I except it
I can't help but be a little bit jealous
'Cause I'm the rule,
yeah I'm the rule
And she's the exception

She's the exception
Yeah
