

Nothing Really Matters

Kelsea Ballerini

I get existential
I get overwhelmed
I live in my mental
When I feel like it's all going down, down, down, down

Am I caught up in the wrong things?
Am I cool enough?
Got two hundred seventy-something things to reply to Ugh, but you know what?

Nothing really matters, we're on a rock in space
Nothing really matters, ain't a test that you ace
Nothing really matters when I'm seeing your face
And I'm wearing that dress that you like
Nothing really matters, aliens, pyramids
Nothing really matters, kiss whoever you kiss
Hush all the chatter
Climb your own ladder
'Cause nothing really matters, nothing really matters anyway
Anyway, anyway, yeah

I should sleep more hours
Eat the birthday cake
(Whole thing)
Stay naked after showers
And strut around the whole damn place
Hey
If it makes you happy
Why are we so sad?
Sheryl said it like thirty years ago
It can't be all that bad, get it off your back
'Cause

Nothing really matters, we're on a rock in space
Nothing really matters, give your demons some grace
Nothing really matters when I'm seeing your face
And I'm wearing that dress that you like
Nothing really matters, we're all souls under skin
Nothing really matters, kiss whoever you kiss
Hush all the chatter
Climb your own ladder
'Cause nothing really matters, nothing really matters anyway
Anyway, anyway, anyway, anyway, yeah
Anyway

Anyway, I was just thinking today
It's kind of all about the memories you make
Yeah
It's kind of all about the love that you get and you give away
And leave the rest to fate
'Cause that's all that really matters anyway
