

Too Late For Us

Kelsy Karter

Here we are again, back at the end
The records been running back where it began
Swear we've been here before
But it feels a little colder now
And we don't need tomorrow babe to figure that out

All these changes, rearranging
The same broken pieces baby, the same broken pieces baby

Is it too late for us? Have we fallen too far?
Down baby, down baby down we go
Is it too late for us? Are we spinning too fast?
Round and round and round we go

You'd think by now we'd have this down
But I keep on waking up more lost and found
So hold me in the dark and tell me it won't be long
Till we won't be waking up so far from home

All these changes, rearranging
The same broken pieces baby, the same broken pieces baby

Is it too late for us? Have we fallen too far?
Down baby, down baby down we go
Is it too late for us? Are we spinning too fast?
Round and round and round we go
Down baby, down baby down we go
