

TRUTH

Kelvyn Colt

A lot of words
But nothing said
Lotta letters
Gone stay unread
I don't vibe with your frequency
Reason why we'll never dance
Different tune
So accustomed to switching moods that I lost track
Of my path, in my past
Accommodating, manipulation
Blind eye out of empathy
Care too much
Heart on a sleeve
I ain't wear enough
I'm worn out
Pure hearts get torn out
Stitch it up, with a lil lie and a lot of gin
Spin a thread of self denial, no one again
Gone pierce da skin

When I lie to me
They just lies for you
Trynna justify all the wrong you do
When you're in denial, comfortable, till it come for you

When I see the truth yeah
I choose to close my eyes for you
When I see the truth yeah
I know the thing that I should do

I sacrifice myself its not forgotten but forgiven
My empathy and love for you keep blurring out my vision

When I see the truth, yeah
I choose to close my yes for you

Can't limit truth
To experience you
Been there, as a timid youth
Pitiful, so gullible, took a while to recognize
Every time I accept your lies and mistreatment
I mistreat me but conceal it in victim hood
Told myself it's my fault
Treat you good, could do more
You got demons
And things you deal with, that justify you doing wrong
For too long
Took boons on
Done doomed my own damn heart, yet
Get none back
You ain't heartless
You're just another soul
That doesn't know
What self love is

When I lie to me

Trynna justify all the wrong you do
When you're in denial, comfortable, till it come for you

When I see the truth, yeah
I choose to close my eyes for you
I know the thing that I should do

I sacrifice myself its not forgotten but forgiven
My empathy and love for you keep blurring out my vision

When I see the truth, yeah
I choose to close my yes for you

When I lie to me
They just lies for you
When you're in denial, comfortable, till it come for you

When I see the truth, yeah
I choose to close my eyes for you
When I see the truth yeah
I know the thing that I should do

I sacrifice myself its not forgotten but forgiven
My empathy and love for you keep blurring out my vision

When I see the truth, yeah
