

There's a life waiting for you
In your brokenness
Scattered pictures of a thousand words
A thousand times
Right or wrong there's no virtue to this madness
Gotta keep pushing on the front lines
To know paradise, yeah

Don't you care about me
Like I care about you?
You can't ignore what you need
Are you lonely?

Does it sanctify you
To know the truth about me?
Maybe we're all less free
'Cause we're lonely, yeah

Faith abides on a road that winds to gladness
Ain't no question about what we fear, it's all divine
Come find love of a lifetime in your sadness
There's something greater on the inside, a new paradigm, yeah

Don't you care about me
Like I care about you?
You can't ignore what you need
Are you lonely?

Does it sanctify you
To know the truth about me?
Maybe we're all less free
'Cause we're lonely, lonely, lonely, yeah

Don't you care about me
Like I care about you?
You can't ignore what you need
Are you lonely?
Does it sanctify you
To know the truth about me?
(The truth about me, baby)
'Cause we're lonely

Don't you care about me
Like I care about you?
(Like I care about you? Ooh)
Are you lonely?

Does it sanctify you (Sanctify)
To know the truth about me? (The truth about me)
