

Tiny Square Room

Kemuri

I miss you in this tiny square room (that's all I have)
Where it makes me think about so many things (it's all I do)
I miss ya in this tiny square room (that's all I have)
Where only dreams and I can exist

In this tiny square room,
In this tiny square room,
Somethin', somehow, makes me think a lot
Makes me wonder why I'm here
Makes me wonder why we met
Somethin' I have never asked myself

Sometimes I feel, I feel so lonely
All I can do is dream about you
Then I realize, then I realize
The most important thing for me

I see you in this tiny square room (that's all I have)
And it heals my pain, heals my pain (it's all I do)
I see you in this tiny square room (that's all I have)
Where I can really be myself!

See you smilin' in my dreams
See you smilin' in my dreams
When I close my eyes you're always there
But I wake up all alone
But I wake up all alone
In this tiny square room

This is somethin' that I, that I have do do now
This is somethin' really makes me happy
But I still think about, yeah, yeah think 'bout
You and me on the sofa talking all night

I see you in this tiny square room (that's all I have)
And it heals my pain, heals my pain (it's all I do)
I see you in this tiny square room (that's all I have)
Where I can really be myself!

Sometimes it's, it's too rough
It's just too rough to dream
In this tiny, tiny square room
Where I can really be myself!

I miss ya in this tiny square room (that's all I have)
Where makes me think about so many things (it's all I do)
I miss ya in this tiny square room (that's all I have)
Where only dreams and I can exist
