

Heaven and Earth

Kenny Lattimore

Some say love's complicated
Some say love wants too much
But when you find that someone
Too much is never enough
Cause every joy my heart has ever
Dreamt of has come from loving you
And nothing you ask of me is too hard
Or too tough
No fire I wouldn't run through
For you
I'll move heaven and earth
The moon in the sky
Cross mountains and rivers to be with you
Risk everything I possess for your happiness
The only thing that comes first
On heaven and earth
Some say I'm sentimental
That true love's only a myth
But I say love is special
Cause I'm blessed to have you to share it with Cause every day there's no greater purpose
Than keeping you satisfied
And nothing you ask of me is too hard or too tough
No battle I would not fight

I'd give up my life
I'll move heaven and earth
The moon in the sky
Cross mountains and rivers to be with you
Risk everything I possess for your happiness
The only thing that comes first
On heaven and earth
I'll move heaven and earth
The moon in the sky
Cross mountains and rivers to be with you
Risk everything I possess for your happiness
The only thing that comes first
On heaven and earth
And how I feel is not temporary
It'll last until the day that I die
A love like yours' not ordinary
It comes only once in your life
I'll move heaven and earth
The moon in the sky
Cross mountains and rivers to be with you
Risk everything I possess for your happiness
The only thing that comes first
On heaven and earth
