Find a Little Grace

Kenny Rogers

I've put too many miles on the soles of my shoes Running from place to place Now it's time to stop and put down some roots And find a little grace I've danced with the devil beneath a pale moon Confronted him face to face Now I'm gonna dance to a different tune And find a little grace

I've been too long at a fool's game And it's about taken it's toll I've paid a high price for small change But it's not worth the price of my soul I must admit, it's taken some time To tame my restless ways Now I'm gonna leave those struggles behind And find a little grace

I'm gonna walk where the light always shines And find a little grace
