You'Dove been teaching me a lesson
That I'Dove never learned
You never make it through a lifetime
Without being burned
Everything I ever thought you were
You turned out to be
Since you gave your love to me.

When I met you on a Monday
My life just stood still
I belong in every moment
That your love can fill
Let me be the only heart you can mend
Turn out the light and take it right to the end

Living with you
In the madness of my mind
In a world I could not find
But you knew what to do
Living with you
There' On a full moon on the rise
There' On a fire in your eyes
And I was born to be.

Loving you under my skin
You'DDre everything to me
I could not love you more
And you know that you are mine
And that'DDs what I'DDm living for

There will never be a question
Of somebody new
I could make it through a lifetime
With someone like you
Let me be the only heart
