keep a window open//

KennyHoopla

And a fog of war lingers from past souls
And a blanket of static down your throat
You know, the dog wakes up when you do
Kinda sad to die this young, I know

But a secret
Is a secret

Keep your humility
And wet dreams of community
Cause you walk in to a grand applause
O, I smell a sitcom
Laughing at my own jokes
Cause I'm lonely when I'm not alone
It's goodbye at hello
Just keep a window open for me

Hey babe, I know it's just business
You promised me it's mental illness
Smells just like teen spirit
No more original thoughts

And a collared shirt is timeless you'd say
Another day, a different heavy suitcase
I just happened to dodge the kicks with my face
I will cry if I blink

Wanna talk about real life
Wanna talk about real life

Keep your humility
And wet dreams of community
Cause you walk in to a grand applause
O, I smell a sitcom
Laughing at my own jokes
Cause I'm lonely when I'm not alone
It's goodbye at hello
Just keep a window open for me

Keep a window open for me
