

MARRY KILL FUCK//

KennyHoopla

I was sitting on the curb outside the roller rink
Loitering and waiting for your late apologies
It only hurt me when you called me drama queen
'Cause I can't pull off pink
Pick a poison, if you make it, I will drink it up
It really, really...
And now I'm mumbling, I'm not even saying words (saying words)

Love sucks, trust me
Summer's ending
Fall into coma

Marry, kill, fuck, could you please pick one?
I am young and dumb, I'll never learn (I'll never learn)
Marry, kill, fuck, could you please pick one?
I am young and dumb, against the world (against the world)

It really matters what you're thinking, it is crippling
The six identities inside me are conflicting things
And everyone is recommending me their therapist
They believe in God but don't believe in aliens
Why is it so easy for us to repeat the past
And even easier with tragedy to make me laugh?
You know pride finds home in the loneliness
When we dried our bones going for a kiss

Well, don't you change the channel
Don't you turn off the screen
Rewrote our own plot, it's sickening

Marry, kill, fuck, could you please pick one?
I am young and dumb, I'll never learn (I'll never learn)
Marry, kill, fuck, could you please pick one?
I am young and dumb, against the world (I'll never learn)

I need you more than you need me
Don't watch books or just read TV
I said that backwards
I think I have dyslexia
Didn't go to college
Boys go to college to get more knowledge
I just go to your room
To get more head and do more shrooms

Marry, kill, fuck, could you please pick one?
Either way, I'm sure I'll die alone, alone

Marry, kill, fuck, could you please pick one?
I am young and dumb, I'll never learn (I'll never learn)
Marry, kill, fuck, could you please pick one?
I am young and dumb, against the world (I need you more than you need me)
Marry, kill, fuck, could you please pick one?
I am young and dumb, against the world (don't read books or just watch TV)
