

Tell me what you want, I can't read your mind
Tell me what you need, I'll give you my time
If you need some wheels, take you on a drive
Just let me swim if I'm tryna take a dive
Take a dive, take a dive

Say you don't want me
Why did you fuck me?
Baby, please call me back
Say you don't need me
Do what you please with me
Promise you'll call me back, back

Wish I ain't crashed out, wish I followed my instincts
Slurring all my words, I care too much what your friends think
My superpowers always end up working against me
Sliding down Everhart, memories too tempting
Plus I'm in the Jeep and my windows is tinted
Your energy shifting, thank God we gifted
Arguing's a love language to me
Especially 'cause you get to hear my voice for free
Damn, this crib's really getting on my nerves
Damn, I miss when you only hung with nerds
Man, put the whole relationship in a verse
Like, swerve, huh
Swerve, swerve, swerve, swerve, swervin'
Hit the pole, I can't break fast, but what's for dinner though?
Texas in the summer, why you got on winter clothes?
You can't be that cold, right?
You know Houston barely ever see a cold night

Say you don't want me
Why did you fuck me?
Baby, please call me back
Say you don't need me
Do what you please with me
Promise you'll call me back, back

Tell me what you want, I can't read your mind
Tell me what you need, I'll give you my time
If you need some wheels, take you on a drive
Just let me swim if I'm tryna take a dive
Take a dive, take a dive
