

Moon So High

Kevin Costner & Modern West

Moon's so high
Nowhere to go but down from here
Here am I wishing that you were near
But it all came crashing down
You were nowhere to be found

Yeah, I remember your little girl smile
I guess never had you
Just held you for a little while
Till it all came crashing down
You were nowhere to be found
There's still pieces all around scattered everywhere

You could break my heart girl a thousand times or more
I'd still come running back to knock upon your door
Don't get me wrong I really ain't that mad
You're just the best thing I've ever had

And I remember last November
Yeah, I see right to the day
You turned around and walked away
Then it all came crashing down
You were nowhere to be found
There's still pieces all around
Pieces of my broken heart

The moon so high tonight
Nowhere to go but down from here
Well, you'd think by now I might've learned to say goodbye
But I'll never say goodbye I'll never say goodbye
